Message from Managing Director

Meghraj S. Jain

Managing Director

Dear shareholders,

FY20 was an unpredictable and challenging year for everyone. The key takeaway is the fact that investors will continue to bank on solid business models and successful team without being affected by any liquidity or economic crises. As a result, the NBFCs are now adapting to the changing market dynamics and crafting new strategies to lend to different segments. The business model of the NBFCs must be re-invented for better processes, execution and underwriting.

According to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), India had a GDP of 4.5%, which reflects the slowing economy and declining consumer confidence. The lenders are making efforts to manage their books and stay in business for the long-run.

The effective liquidity management of the Company has ensured that there are enough cash and liquid assets serviceable to the numerous demands for loans and withdrawals. Mangal Credit has made realistic future projections in order to utilise our resources and stay positive in this ever-changing market. Asset-liability management is the process of effective planning and managing asset and liability volumes, maturities, rates and yields in order to minimise interest rate threat and to achieve a good profit. This allows us to be ready for situations like economic slowdowns, recessions or any other unpredictable changes.

The liquidity in the market dictates the effect of Covid-19 in the lending segment. If the credit line of banks dries up, there will be an adverse impact on the disbursements of Easy Monthly Installments (EMI).

However, your Company will be safeguarded by its sustainable business model and strategies to counter every possible situation. Furthermore, our capital and buffer ensured we did not endure many problems during such stressful times.

The NBFCs serve two kinds of customers – salaried and non-salaried. Since the Central Government has directed companies not to cut salaries, the customers employed in major companies will not be impacted. However, salaried people working in SMEs might experience financial crunch and bear the brunt of the current situation.

Secondly, studies suggest that people with lower EMIs will not default, in comparison to those with bigger EMIs. If the economic slowdown continues, people may lose jobs, directly impact the banks more than the NBFCs.

The year 2020 could be a turning point for the NBFCs, as the government has initiated a lot of strong fiscal measures to improve demand and lighten the liquidity pressure. A lot of programs have been beneficial, besides the introduction of the partial credit guarantee scheme, end-use of restrictions on external commercial borrowings, loan co-origination with banks and financial institutions and introduction of liquidity coverage ratios among others.

The NBFCs are growing at a face pace and are continuously challenging the conventional methods of banking. However, there are a few facts to consider. The concept of NBFCs is still new in India and the industry is yet to see bigger challenges. The NBFCs must tackle all kinds of slowdown, crisis and recession in the economy. It must be noted that the NBFC's liquidity is sensitive to market sentiment, as their business models rely on short-term wholesale funding, which can dry up quickly once the market sentiment turns negative. To nullify such risks, effective planning and proper management are necessary.

With stricter compliances, the borrowings in the market have increased and the NBFCs are focussing more on niche markets. Therefore, it is important for them to enhance their business agility and conceptualisation. NBFCs all over are determined to develop improved products and also service to all kinds of sectors and all kinds of population.

Customers nowadays are tech-savvy and with their knowledge, they expect us to cater to their demands in terms of credit facilities. To help us serve them, we need to develop our strategies and invest in the new age technology and utilise things like artificial intelligence capabilities which will allow them to connect and cater to the customer in a personalised manner.

To facilitate such a situation, it is absolutely vital for us to adopt business models that will enhance the progress of our new and customer-friendly products effortlessly by combining technology. Switching to these new technologies will also be cost-effective whether it is customer data, customer management or de-risking the portfolio while trying to get over the increasing formal credit penetration.

The financial sector forms the core of an elaborate and extensive nation like India. The NBFCs are the catalysts of the economy, as they offer different kinds of services like lending, investment banking and capital market operations. The non-banking companies, on the other hand, have the maximum reach when compared to the banking system of the economy. Although many government schemes have motivated the population to open their bank accounts, there is still a considerable percentage of Indian who do not own a bank account.

The Indian banking sector is under a lot of pressure due to the burden of non-paying accounts. This has brought new opportunities for the NBFCs. Their importance has increased now with the banking system tightening its policies due to scepticism regarding the lending activities. NBFCs contribute nearly 16% to the economy, which is twice as much as the bank credit growth in the same period. The government is focussing on promoting business and entrepreneurship, which will also help the NBFCs to maximise their potential and contribute to the economy.

Since the NBFCs also serve the rural population of India, they have ground-level knowledge about the customers and their requirements. This gives them an advantage over the banking system for strengthening the economy by reaching out to everyone and addressing their needs. Having said that, I am confident that the NBFCs have a bright future with the continuous support of the government and their progressive policies to motivate entrepreneurship.

I want to thank all our shareholders for their continued trust and support, which has been integral to our growth story.

Yours sincerely,

Meghraj S. Jain

Management Discussion & Analysis

Global Economy

The global economic development fell significantly in 2019 on the back of a promising performance in 2018, due to headwinds stemming from both developed economies and emerging ones. The economic growth remained positive at 3.6% in 2018 after a 4% rise in 2017, only to slip sharply to 2.9% in 2019. Global trade disputes have also been more common over the year, expanding to many more countries than China and the United States; the reasons of these tensions are assumed to be the economic turmoil related to Brexit, joint allegations of protectionism between the European Union and the United States and tense relations between the two. In particular, the trade wars have increased cyclic headwinds in the telecommunications and automobile sectors, all of which have large cross-country supply networks. High uncertainty surrounding the potential trade policies has led to a fall in company confidence, which has dented investment growth in many nations. Additionally, these advances have lowered the demand for foreign resources and intermediate-goods, contributing to the slowdown in international trade.

At the beginning of 2020, growth across emerging markets was slower than expected majorly because of numerous hindrances weighing on domestic demand across nations. Due to tough financial conditions and systemic problems, China's economic expansion went into a tailspin in 2019 with a growth of 6.1 per cent. Regardless of the pandemic, regional lockdowns adversely affected consumer demand and decreased investment flow at year-end. The pandemic represents the greatest economic impact the world economy has experienced in a century, causing a slump in global investment. Spillovers across borders have impacted economies in finance and services, foreign commerce, shipping and tourism sectors.

Worldwide equity markets plummeted, spreads to more risky debt groups expanded considerably, and EMDEs witnessed massive capital outflows in most of March and April. Commodity prices have fallen significantly as a result of declining global demand.

Stock markets in developing nations encountered intense volatility, as uncertainty prevailed and early attempts to curb the pandemic fell well short of investor expectations. Central banks in developing countries responded with interest rate cuts and asset purchases to boost liquidity, maintain credit flows and stabilise stock and bond prices. Growing investor risk aversion has caused significant capital outflows from many major emerging economies, resulting in large devaluations of the currency and tighter credit terms. Despite the exceptionally high degree of volatility around the future, alternate scenarios tend to illustrate the near-term scope of potential global growth outcomes. Recent estimates say that the world trade is on track to decrease further than it was before the 2008 global financial crisis, partially due to disturbances induced by the COVID-19 pandemic triggered by international travel and global supply chains. Investment is considered more cyclical and trade-centred relative to other spending areas and has declined dramatically as companies face financing difficulties that inevitably hinder progress. Export firms are more involved in the credit markets and are severely affected by credit cost increases.

The financial year 2020-21 began with a challenge, as COVID-19 significantly affected various sectors of the economy. According to the International Monetary Fund, the world economy is on the verge of rising to 5.8 per cent in 2021. Governments are grappling with measures to reduce the economic consequences of the pandemic. Fiscal stimulus efforts are unlikely to restore economic demand, although they are critical for maintaining wages and prosperity and preventing bankruptcies, as opportunities to buy certain goods and services remain low.

Indian Economy

The Indian economy experienced a marked slowdown in 2019. Throughout the third quarter of the previous year, the economy contracted at a six-year low rate of 4.7 per cent. Underlying this fall in GDP growth over 2019-20 is a decrease in private spending, an increase in overall CapEx and a fall in trade volumes as a result of slowing global growth and production. Investment and consumer demand had languished, and a number of stimulus steps were taken to return the economy to a path of recovery.

The Government continues to work proactively and is prepared to respond to the economic conditions. Important policy announcements in the last few months have been made to boost demand and supply, which includes liberalising FDI criteria for select sectors; scaling back a much-debated tax surcharge on international equity investors; incentives to support various industries; restructuring of PSU banks and substantial cuts in corporate tax rates. Such initiatives are intended to improve credit expansion, increase capital inflows, revitalise private investment and employment and thereby fuel economic activity. In the face of extreme headwinds, these crucial measures will certainly mitigate the adverse impact on the Indian economy of a mixture of global and local economic factors.

There was a strong chance of recovery during the last quarter of FY 19-20. However, the latest outbreak of coronavirus has made recuperation exceedingly complicated in short to medium term. The epidemic has now raised fresh threats to the Indian economy, having significant disruptive impacts on both demand and supply-side factors that could undermine India's growth story. It is anticipated that the national lockout and the consequent cessation of economic activity due to the pandemic would severely impede economic development in the first half of FY 20-21. Apart from the continued stability of agriculture and related industries, about 70 per cent of the economic sectors would have little to zero added value during the lockout period. These sectors of the economy will be adversely affected according to the severity, distribution and length of COVID-19. The global recession could escalate in a sustained spread that is undermining supply chains, causing instability for India.

India will use this period of regeneration to slowly but progressively improve its core capabilities in terms of preparing for the future. The country has emerged as the fastest-growing emerging economy in the world and is projected to become one of the largest economic forces in the world in the next 10-15 years, backed by a stable democracy and international ties.

NBFC Sector (Economic times, IBEF, ICRA NBFC)

For sustainable socio-economic development, one of the important aspects is financial inclusion. Banks and other financial institutions have played a major role in the history of mankind to ensure the growth and prosperity of societies.

Over the years, the Indian retail borrowing scenario has evolved. In the last year, particularly, a conceptual change has been witnessed in the borrowing behaviour of the consumers. As a result, the demand for personal credit has grown significantly.

India is expected to become the fourth-largest private wealth market, on a global scale, by 2028. The number of Ultra High Net Worth Individuals (UHNWI) in the country is anticipated to increase from 5,986 in 2019 to 10,354 in 2024, a rise of nearly 73% in five years.

The Non-Banking Financial Companies are emerging swiftly due to intermediaries present in the retail finance sector. The public deposit of the NBFCs grew from USD 0.29 billion in 2009 to USD 5.86 billion in 2019, with a CAGR of 35%. As of May 2020, the AUM of the NBFCs is valued at INR 24.54 trillion, which is a rise from INR 10.96 trillion in October 2014 with a CAGR of nearly 16%.

With the hopes of easing liquidity and creating demand, the Government has executed measures to allow the public sector banks to lend more to the NBFCs, introduced partial credit guarantee scheme, organised loans and much more.

In the Union Budget 2019-20, the Government pledged its support towards the financial institutions of the country and allocated INR 2,455.90 crores (USD 340.39 million) for their development. In the following Union Budget, the Department of Financial Services was allocated INR 11,125 crores (USD 1.59 billion).

The investors will concentrate on solidifying their business prospects and ensure profitability, without much concern about the liquidity crisis or the economic slump. The NBFCs have taken the initiative to form new strategies to lend to various segments and tweak the market dynamics likewise.

Most of the NBFCs are leveraged adequately and have impressive capital adequacy ratios. However, many of them will look to raise fresh equity capital, so as to safeguard themselves from any financial woes due to Covid-19.

MSME (Elara Capital, IBEF, Forbes India, Financial Express)

The growth of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprise (MSME) sector is crucial to the development of the Indian economy. The sector contributes to nearly one-third of the nation's GDP and more than 40% of the manufacturing output. The MSMEs are also central to employment generation, as more than 110 million of the population are associated professionally with the sector.

A big challenge in the MSME industry is the massive credit gap. As per studies, only 16% of the MSMEs receive a formal credit, which means that more than 80% of the companies are either unfinanced or financed via informal sources. Since the informal credits are far expensive than the formal debts, the burden keeps on increasing for the MSMEs.

To prevent any hindrances towards the stability of the financial sector, timely and precise data which covers both structured and unstructured information must be available. This proves helpful in ensuring that the MSME companies are using the loans productively and nothing would further hamper the growth of the sector.

The MSMEs are vulnerable to economic headwinds, which is why the pandemic of COVID-19 is immensely challenging for the sector. As a measure, the Government is motivating banks and non-banking financial institutions to lend money to the MSMEs to help them persist during such uncertain times.

In the Union Budget 2019-20, the Government allocated INR 350 crores (USD 50.07 million) for 2% interest subvention under the Interest Subvention Scheme for MSMEs. This was for all the GST-registered MSMEs on incremental or fresh loans.

To ensure funding for financial institutions, the RBI has provided refinance lines for MSMEs, rural and housing sectors. For the MSMEs, the Small Industries Development Bank of India (SIDBI) will be given INR 150 billion and the National Bank For Agriculture & Rural Development (NABARD) will receive INR 250 billion for developing rural and agricultural sectors. To improve the housing sector, the National Housing Bank (NHB) will receive INR 100 billion.

Gold Loans (The Print, Bloomberg Quint, Economic Times)

The Indian gold loan industry is valued at USD 46 billion, out of which 65% is due to informal lenders whose rate of interest range anywhere between 25% to 50%. In numerous parts of the country, especially the rural, pawning of ornaments is considered as the final alternative for financial help.

In the coming years, the Indian market for gold loans is anticipated to grow by 34% to INR 4.6 trillion (USD 61 billion), on the back of lower transaction times and collaterals which can be easily sold off in case of any default.

In FY 2018-19, gold loan companies expanded aggressively over the northern and eastern regions of the country. The loan activity increased significantly with the introduction of online modes and doorstep customer service by both non-banking organisations and fintech startups.

According to the World Gold Council, nearly 22,000 – 25,000 tonnes of gold are stored as assets in Indian household, of which 65% is in the rural area. From the total gold stock of the country, about 1.2% is collateral for the loans, signifying growth potential in the industry. It is observed most of the times that with a disruption in the working capital cycle in the unorganised sector, the demand for gold loan slumps. However, during the Coronavirus pandemic, the demand has increased, resulting in most banks and NBFCs becoming resilient to risks.

Growth Drivers (IBEF)

Increasing income is acting as the catalyst for improved financial services

The RBI's initiative to drive financial inclusion has increased the target market to semi-urban and rural regions

The Hon'ble Minister for Finance and Corporate Affairs, Ms Nirmala Sitharaman introduced instant allotment of PAN (near or real-time basis) via Aadhaar based e-KYC, in June 2020

Nearly 75% of the Indian population resides in rural areas where financial services have not cemented their businesses. However, in the last few years, rural India has experienced a promising growth in their income and have become a target audience for financial services. To ensure a faster and efficient penetration of the financial services, cross-utilisation of standalone networks, like SHG, NGOs and MFIs, will be key. As a result, there will be a better use of technology in rural areas, with internet kiosk-based channels to become the bridge between the rural population and financial services.

Challenges (ELARA Capital)

On 17 April 2020, the RBI announced TLTRO-2, a special liquidity line to the banks for lending to the NBFCs. The first auction of INR 250 billion was held on 23 April; however, it was underbid with banks only bidding for INR 128 billion. This signifies that the banks are wary of risks and will prevent investing in the debt of small and medium-sized NBFCs, due to the increasing risks in the sector after the IL&FS crisis and detrimental impact of lockdown.

Nearly 3,936 firms downgraded during the pandemic, while only 593 were upgraded. Almost 35% of the credit ratings on Indian firms either have a negative outlook or are under credit observation with serious implications. Report on the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying Standalone Financial Statements of M/S Mangal Credit & Fincorp Limited (the "Company") which comprises the Balance Sheet as at March 31st, 2020, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including other comprehensive income), the Statement of Changes in Equity, the Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid Standalone financial statements give the information required by the Act in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India;

- a) in the case of the Balance Sheet, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2020;
- b) in the case of the Statement of Profit and Loss, of the profit for the year ended on that date; and
- c) in the case of the Statement of Changes in Equity on that date; and
- d) in the case of the Cash Flow Statement, of the cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to the following matters in the Notes to the financial statements:

Note No 29 to the Financial Statements stating the fact of non-provision of liability of Rs. 40,75,600/- arising on Income Tax Assessment for the A.Y. 2012-13 and A.Y. 2013-14 consequent upon search & seizure operations in the case of company on 01/10/2013.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of the above matters.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of financial statements of the current period. These matters are addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The board of directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our objective is to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes an opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements.

- 1) As required by Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2016 ("The Order"), as amended, issued by Central Government of India in terms of Sub Section (11) of Section 143 of Companies Act, 2013 we enclose in the "Annexure A", a statement of matters specified in paragraph 3 & 4 of the said order to the extent applicable.

- (f) With respect to the adequacy of the internal financial controls over financial Reporting of the Company and the operating effectiveness of such controls, Refer to our separate Report in "Annexure B".
- (g) With respect to the other matters to be included in the Auditor's Report in Accordance with Rule 11 of the Companies (Audit and Auditors) Rules, 2014, in our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the Explanations given to us:

Annexure - B to the Auditors' Report

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Mangal Credit & Fincorp Limited ("the Company") as of 31st March 2020 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2020, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair values.

iv. Measurement of fair values

A number of Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. The Company has established policies and procedures with respect to the measurement of fair values. Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2020

Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs)

v. Use of estimates and judgments and Estimation uncertainty

In preparing these financial statements, management has made judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of the Company's accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income, expenses and the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to estimates are recognized prospectively.

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Company based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the financial statements were issued. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Company. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

Following are areas that involved a higher degree of estimate and judgement or complexity in determining the carrying amount of some assets and liabilities.

Effective Interest Rate (EIR) Method:

The Company recognizes interest income / expense using a rate of return that represents the best estimate of a constant rate of return over the expected life of the loans given / taken. This estimation, by nature, requires an element of judgement regarding the expected behavior and life-cycle of the instruments, as well as expected changes to other fee income/expense that are integral parts of the instrument.

Impairment of Financial Assets:

The measurement of impairment losses on loan assets and commitments, requires judgement, in estimating the amount and timing of future cash flows and recoverability of collateral values while determining the impairment losses and assessing a significant increase in credit risk.

Provisions and other contingent liabilities:

The reliable measure of the estimates and judgments pertaining to litigations and the regulatory proceedings in the ordinary course of the Company's business are disclosed as contingent liabilities. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

vi. Revenue recognition

a. Recognition of interest income on loans

Interest income is recognized in Statement of profit and loss using the effective interest method for all financial instruments measured at amortized cost. The 'effective interest rate' is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument.

The calculation of the effective interest rate includes transaction costs and fees that are an integral part of the contract. Transaction costs include incremental costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of financial asset.

If expectations regarding the cash flows on the financial asset are revised for reasons other than credit risk, the adjustment is recorded as a positive or negative adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset in the balance sheet with an increase or reduction in interest income. The adjustment is subsequently amortized through Interest income in the Statement of profit and loss.

The Company calculates interest income by applying the EIR to the gross carrying amount of financial assets other than credit-impaired assets.

When a financial asset becomes credit-impaired, the Company calculates interest income by applying the effective interest rate to the net amortized cost of the financial asset. If the financial asset cures and is no longer credit impaired, the Company reverts to calculating interest income on a gross basis.

b. Fee and commission income:

Fee based income are recognized when they become measurable and when it is probable to expect their ultimate collection. Commission and brokerage income earned for the services rendered are recognized as and when they are due.

c. Dividend and interest income on investments:

Dividends are recognized in Statement of profit and loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Interest income from investments is recognized when it is certain that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable.

vii. Property Plant and Equipment (PPE)

The Company has elected to measure property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets at its Previous GAAP carrying amount and use that Previous GAAP carrying amount as its deemed cost at the date of transition to Ind AS.

PPE are stated at cost of acquisition (including incidental expenses), less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of PPE outstanding at each balance sheet date are disclosed separately under other non-financial assets. Capital work in progress comprises the cost of PPE that are not ready for its intended use at the reporting date.

Depreciation on PPE is provided on straight-line basis in accordance with the useful lives specified in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 on a pro-rata basis.

The estimated useful lives used for computation of depreciation are as follows:

Asset	Useful life (in years)
Plant and equipment	15
Furniture and fixtures	10
Vehicles	6
Office equipment	3
Computer peripherals	3

PPE is derecognized on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the net carrying amount of the asset) is recognized in other income / netted off from any loss on disposal in the Statement of profit and loss in the year the asset is derecognized.

viii. Intangibles assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment loss, if any.

Intangible assets comprise of computer software which is amortized over the estimated useful life. The amortization period is equal to 5 years which is based on management's estimates of useful life. Amortization is calculated using the straight-line method to write down the cost of intangible assets over their estimated useful lives.

ix. Investments in subsidiaries and associates

Investments in subsidiaries and associate are measured at cost less accumulated impairment, if any.

x. Financial instruments

a. Recognition and initial measurement:

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized immediately in Statement of profit and loss.

b. Classification and Subsequent measurement of financial assets:

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at-

Amortized cost;

The Company's business model is not assessed on an instrument-by-instrument basis, but at a higher level of aggregated portfolios being the level at which they are managed. The financial asset is held with the objective to hold financial asset in order to collect contractual cash flows as per the contractual terms that give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payment of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding. Accordingly, the Company measures Bank balances, Loans, Trade receivables and other financial instruments at amortized cost.

FVOCI - equity instruments;

The Company subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value through profit or loss, unless the Company's management has elected to classify irrevocably some of its equity instruments at FVOCI, when such instruments meet the definition of Equity under Ind AS 32 Financial Instruments and are not held for trading.

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

Subsequent measurement of financial assets:

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured at amortized cost using effective interest method. The amortized cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income and impairment are recognized in Statement of profit and loss. Any gain and loss on derecognition is recognized in Statement of profit and loss.

For equity investments, the Company makes an election on an instrument-by-instrument basis to designate equity investments as measured at FVOCI. These elected investments are measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the reserves. The cumulative gain or loss is not reclassified to Statement of profit and loss on disposal of the investments. These investments in equity are not held for trading. Instead, they are held for strategic purpose. Dividend income received on such equity investments are recognized in Statement of profit and loss.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2020

c. Financial liabilities and equity instruments:

Classification as debt or equity -

Debt and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments -

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by Company are recognized at the proceeds received. Transaction costs of an equity transaction are recognized as a deduction from equity.

Financial liabilities -

Financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in Statement of profit and loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognized in Statement of profit and loss.

d. Derecognition:

Financial assets:

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Company enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognized on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognized.

Financial liabilities:

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation in respect of the liability is discharged, cancelled or expires. The difference between the carrying value of the financial liability and the consideration paid is recognized in Statement of profit and loss.

Impairment of financial instruments

Equity instruments are not subject to impairment under Ind AS 109.

Overview of the ECL principles: The Company records allowance for expected credit losses for all loans, other debt financial assets not held at FVTPL, together with loan commitments, in this section all referred to as 'financial instruments'. Equity instruments are not subject to impairment under Ind AS 109. The ECL allowance is based on the credit losses expected to arise over the life of the asset (the lifetime expected credit loss or LTECL), unless there has been no significant increase in credit risk since origination, in which case, the allowance is based on the 12 months' expected credit loss (12mECL) as outlined in these notes. The 12mECL is the portion of LTECLs that represent the ECLs that result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date. Both LTECLs and 12mECLs are calculated on either an individual basis or a collective basis, depending on the nature of the underlying portfolio of financial instruments. The Company has established a policy to perform an assessment, at the end of each reporting period, of whether a financial instrument's credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, by considering the change in the risk of default occurring over the remaining life of the financial instrument. Based on the above process, the Company categorizes its loans into Stage 1, Stage 2 and Stage 3, as described below:

Stage 1: When loans are first recognized, the Company recognizes an allowance based on 12mECLs. Stage 1 loans also include facilities where the credit risk has improved and the loan has been reclassified from Stage 2.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2020

Stage 2: When a loan has shown a significant increase in credit risk since origination, the Company records an allowance for the LTECLs PDs and LGDs are estimated over the lifetime of the instrument. The expected cash shortfalls are discounted by an approximation to the original EIR.

Stage 3: For loans considered credit-impaired, the Company recognizes the lifetime expected credit losses for these loans. The method is similar to that for Stage 2 assets, with the PD set at 100%.

Forward looking information in its ECL models, the Company relies on a broad range of forward looking information as economic inputs, such as: • GDP growth • Unemployment rates. The inputs and models used for calculating ECLs may not always capture all characteristics of the market at the date of the financial statements. To reflect this, qualitative adjustments or overlays are made as temporary adjustments.

Loan commitment: When estimating LTECLs for undrawn loan commitments, the Company estimates the expected portion of the loan commitment that will be drawn down over its expected life. The ECL is then based on the present value of the expected shortfalls in cash flows if the loan is drawn down. The expected cash shortfalls are discounted at an approximation to the expected EIR on the loan. For an undrawn loan commitment, ECLs are calculated and presented under provision.

- A. Contractual payments of either principal or interest are past due for more than 90 days;
- B. The loan is considered to be in default by the management.

Calculation of ECLs: The Company calculates ECLs to measure the expected cash shortfalls, discounted at an approximation to the EIR. A cash shortfall is the difference between the cash flows that are due to an entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive. The key elements of the ECL are summarized below:

PD: The Probability of Default is an estimate of the likelihood of default over a given time horizon. A default may only happen at a certain time over the assessed period, if the facility has not been previously derecognized and is still in the portfolio.

EAD: The Exposure at Default is an estimate of the exposure at a future default date (in case of Stage 1 and Stage 2), taking into account expected changes in the exposure after the reporting date, including repayments of principal and interest, whether scheduled by contract or otherwise, expected drawdowns on committed facilities, and accrued interest from missed payments. In case of Stage 3 loans EAD represents exposure when the default occurred.

LGD: The Loss Given Default is an estimate of the loss arising in the case where a default occurs at a given time. It is based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due and those that the lender would expect to receive, including from the realization of any collateral. It is usually expressed as a percentage of the EAD. Impairment losses and releases are accounted for and disclosed separately from modification losses or gains that are accounted for as an adjustment of the financial asset's gross carrying value. The mechanics of the ECL method are summarized below:

Stage 1: The 12mECL is calculated as the portion of LTECLs that represent the ECLs that result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date. The Company calculates the 12mECL allowance based on the expectation of a default occurring in the 12 months following the reporting date. These expected 12-month default probabilities are applied to a forecast EAD and multiplied by the expected LGD and discounted by an approximation to the original EIR.

Stage 2: When a loan has shown a significant increase in credit risk since origination, the

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2020

Company records an allowance for the LTECLs PDs and LGDs are estimated over the lifetime of the instrument. The expected cash shortfalls are discounted by an approximation to the original EIR.

Stage 3: For loans considered credit-impaired, the Company recognizes the lifetime expected credit losses for these loans. The method is similar to that for Stage 2 assets, with the PD set at 100%.

e. Write offs

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off when there is no realistic prospect of further recovery. This is generally the case when the Company determines that the debtor/ borrower does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities under the Company's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. Any recoveries made are recognized in Statement of profit and loss.

xi. Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably

Contribution to provident fund and ESIC

Company's contribution paid/payable during the year to provident fund and ESIC is recognized in the Statement of profit and loss.

xii. Finance cost

Finance costs include interest expense computed by applying the effective interest rate on respective financial instruments measured at Amortized cost. Finance costs are charged to the Statement of profit and loss.

xiii. Taxation- Current and deferred tax:

Income tax expense comprises of current tax and deferred tax. It is recognized in Statement of profit and loss except to the extent that it relates to an item recognized directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

Current tax:

Current tax comprises amount of tax payable in respect of the taxable income or loss for the year determined in accordance with Income Tax Act, 1961 and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The Company's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax:

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequence that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable income will be available against which the deductible temporary difference could be utilized. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

xiv. Impairment of assets other than financial assets:

The Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets at the end of each reporting period, to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets or Company of assets.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pretax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount such that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined if no impairment loss had been recognized for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. The reversal of an impairment loss is recognized in Statement of profit and loss.

xv. Provisions:

Provisions are recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and there is a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

xvi. Leases:

Company as a lessee:

The Company's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for building. The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Company recognizes a right-of-use (ROU) asset and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of 12 months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low-value leases, the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. The ROU assets are initially recognized at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. ROU assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. ROU assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For the purpose of impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the Cash Generating Unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs. The lease liability is initially measured at amortized cost at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates in the country of domicile of these leases. Lease liabilities are remeasured with a corresponding adjustment to the related ROU asset if the Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise an extension or a termination option.

However, company is having lease with term of 12 months or less (short term leases). the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Company as a lessor:

Leases for which the Company is a lessor is classified as a finance or operating lease. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases. For operating leases, rental income is recognized on a straight line basis over the term of the relevant lease.

xvii. Cash and cash equivalents:

Cash and cash equivalents in the balance sheet comprise cash on hand, balance with banks in current accounts and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

xviii. Earnings Per Share:

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit for the period after deducting preference dividends and any attributable tax thereto for the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, sub-division of shares etc. that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders is divided by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period, considered for deriving basic earnings per share and weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

3. Standards issued but not yet effective:

There is no addition in standards issue but not effective as on date.

(i) Credit risk management

Credit risk arises when a borrower is unable to meet his financial obligations to the lender. This could be either because of wrong assessment of the borrower's payment capabilities or due to uncertainties in his future earning potential. The effective management of credit risk requires the establishment of appropriate credit risk policies and processes. comprehensive internal control systems and procedures and key back up processes. In order to further strengthen the control framework and effectiveness, the company has established risk control self-assessment at branches to identify process lapses by way of exception reporting. This enables the management to evaluate key areas of operational risks and the process to adequately mitigate them on an ongoing basis. While examining the effectiveness of control framework through self-assessment, the risk-based audit would assure effective implementation of selfcertification and internal financial controls adherence, thereby, reducing enterprise exposure.

Currency Risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. However the company is not exposed to the risk of fluctuations on change in exchange rates as company does not have any foreign transaction.

(v) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Liquidity risk arises because of the possibility that the Company might be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due as a result of mismatches in the timing of the cash flows under both normal and stress circumstances. Such scenarios could occur when funding needed for illiquid asset positions is not available to the Company on acceptable terms. To limit this risk, management has arranged for diversified funding sources and adopted a policy of availing funding in line with the tenor and repayment pattern of its receivables and monitors future cash flows and liquidity on a daily basis. NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2020

(v) Foot Notes to Reconciliations

1 Effective interest rate impact

Under Previous GAAP, origination fees and transaction costs charged to customers was recognised upfront. Under Ind AS, such fees and costs is amortised over the expected life of the loan assets and recognised as interest income using effective interest method.

Under Previous GAAP, the transaction costs related to borrowings were recognised upfront in the Statement of profit and loss/ securities premium. Under Ind AS, such costs are amortised over the contractual term of the borrowing and recognised as interest expense using effective interest method in the Statement of profit and loss.

2 Under previous GAAP, interest free security deposits given were at the undiscounted amount. Under Ind AS, such deposits are to be measured initially at discounted amounts, if the effect of time value of money is material. Accordingly, the Company has identified deposits which qualify as financial assets and has discounted such deposits to their present value at the reporting date. After initial recognition, the deposits are subsequently measured at amortised cost i.e. interest based on the market rate has been recognised under the effective rate method as part of interest income. The prepayments are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on the straight line basis over the period of security deposit.

3 Deferred tax effect of all adjustments has been recognised on transition date and during the year ended 31 March 2019.

40 Previous GAAP figures have been reclassified/regrouped wherever necessary to confirm with Financial Statements prepared under Ind AS.
